Site Visits:
 - Old Chemung Canal -Josh Woodard -looking for an option on the canal flow towards Casella and doing some tree removal.
 - Breesport-N. Chemung Road
 - Patrick Collins contacted us from 756 Breesport N. Chemung Road with concerns about the drainage situation behind his home and eight of his neighbors. Mark and I met on May 10th with Mr. Collins and took drone shots to see possible solutions.
 - Revisited Susan Vieselmeyer on Jackson Creek Road-water floods driveway, which she believes is due to Jackson Creek Dam. Ms. Vieselmeyer would like to remove all the shrubs from the area to put the water back on a standard path. We did not see any obstructions causing the area to flood. I will follow up with her.
 - The town of Big Flats called about their park issues with flooding.
 - Richard Howard's Town of Erin property is in the floodplain, but Mr. Howard wants to see the stream dredged/cleaned out. The issue is he does not want equipment to go on his property. It would involve an excavator and dump trucks to remove the fill.
